

Coming Soon:

Community Presbyterian Church, Redmond, Oregon

Community Presbyterian Church in Redmond, Oregon, will soon be seeking a pastor.

Stay tuned! We anticipate publishing our Ministry Discernment Profile (MDP) later this year, with more information about our church, our community, and the pastor we are seeking.

In the meantime, here are a few of the basics about life in Redmond:

If you haven't been to Redmond, we are a beautiful and growing community in Central Oregon, nestled between the Cascade Mountains and the high desert, with abundant opportunities for outdoor recreation.

Redmond is home to people with a broad range of social, cultural, and theological perspectives, making it a vibrant and diverse community in which to live and serve.

Community Presbyterian Church is looking forward to the next chapter in our ministry and to finding the pastor God is calling to serve alongside us.

More about our church, our community, and the pastor we are seeking will be available in our Ministry Discernment Profile (MDP), which we anticipate publishing later this year.

We invite you to visit us online and learn more about Community Presbyterian Church—and check back soon for our MDP and job posting. Or, email us and express your interest and we'll let you know when our MDP is live.
